Fannin Counseling & Art Therapy Shadow Photo Exhibition

129 6th Street South, 4:30 pm - 7:00 pm

Shadow Photo is a collaboration between photographer and individual, inviting artists to participate in a process that is part portrait photography, part exploration of personal perception of the shadow self. 18 participants were given the task to explore their shadow selves: who and what they are that the rest of the world does not or cannot see. Participants also sat for a portrait photo with La Crosse area photographer Dylan Overhouse, to be displayed alongside the shadow panel, exemplifying their light side.

Fannin Counseling & Art Therapy: Brothers, Epoxy, and Mixed Media Show

129 6th Street South, 5:00 pm - 7:00 pm

This show includes works from brothers Steve and Mike Schulze, of Marlin Custom Builders. Utilizing reclaimed wood, handcrafted frames, acrylic paint, and epoxy, the brothers call from a life spent on the Mississippi River. Themes range from daily life on Brice Prairie, childhood memories boating on the Mississippi, and the greater outdoors of the Midwest. Besides paintings, the brothers will be showcasing reclaimed slab wood tables, fabricated from the ground up, that utilize outcast scraps.
